

Privacy and Site Use Policy

The Friends of Malheur National Wildlife Refuge (FOMR) is committed to preserving your privacy and safeguarding your information online. We will not trade, share or sell any Member/Donor's personal information with anyone else, nor send mailings on behalf of other organizations. Every email you receive from us through Constant Contact or NeonCRM and contain an unsubscribe link you can use to be removed from the email list.

The following describes the general information-gathering and usage practices of our website.

IP Address Use:

As with most web sites, our server logs all traffic by the IP address of each user. This IP address information is used by our technical support staff for server administration and broad demographic reporting.

Cookies:

Our site uses a cookie to keep track of temporary information during your visit to our website. Cookies are identifiers that we transfer to your computer's hard drive through your Web browser to enable our systems to recognize your browser and to provide personalization features. The "help" portion of the toolbar on most browsers will tell you how to prevent your browser from accepting new cookies, how to have the browser notify you when you receive a new cookie, and how to disable cookies altogether.

Personal Information:

When you join FOMR or make a donation to us through our website, we request your contact information (name, address, phone number, email address). We maintain this information in our database of supporters so that we can send you electronic and written materials that keep you informed about our work. If you do not want to receive these materials from us, you can call 541.493.4230 or email friends@malheurfriends.org.

Site Usage:

If you use this site, you agree to and are responsible for maintaining the confidentiality of your account. You are also responsible for restricting access to your computer and you agree to accept responsibility for all activities that occur under your account. If you are under 18 you may only access and use this site under the direct supervision of a parent or guardian. The site is for your personal use only and may not be reproduced, duplicated, copied, sold, resold, modified or exploited for any reason without our express written consent.

We work hard to ensure that your experience on our site is a positive one. If you have any questions about this privacy policy or your dealings with our organization, or would like any additional information please contact Janelle Wicks, director@malheurfriends.org or just write to:
